

Rev. Dr. Chad Lakies is the Regional Director for North America at Lutheran Hour Ministries and provides leadership and operational management for the North America region. His work with LHM is centered around proclaiming the Gospel to significant numbers of non-churched people, effectively using mass media to spread the Gospel, and helping the church become more outreach focused by empowering it to share the Gospel at more personal levels. He regularly speaks at national and international conferences for pastors, church professionals, and scholars and has published in several journals on the topic of faith and culture. His former life as a non-believer provides exceedingly relevant experience for thinking about how to engage with our friends and neighbors outside the Kingdom of God.

Lakies most recently served as department chair and associate professor of religion at Concordia University, Portland (one of the most secular cities in North America). Before joining the Concordia University staff in 2012, he was involved in church planting in St. Louis, MO (Christ in the City/CRAVE Coffeehouse) and subsequently served as a worship director there until 2010. Later, he founded a collective for young adults (theOpen) at Concordia Lutheran Church in Kirkwood, Missouri. He holds a bachelor's degree in philosophy and psychology from the University of Michigan and an M.Div. and Ph.D. in systematic theology from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis.

He and his wife Bethany have two daughters, Anabel and Daphne.
