Calling Your College Students

Does your congregation have college students away from home? Who is serving them? We'd love to help them get connected! Please send us your college students' names and contact information, and we will connect them with one of our college ministries around the state.

Among those many college ministries established throughout the District, a new one is about to be added to the list at Sul Ross State University in Alpine, TX. This group that starts August 27, 2023 will focus on food, fellowship, and Bible study. We give thanks to God for all those ministering to this often underserved population of college-age Christians.
