

Rev. Jake Boessling is an engaging, high-energy, and seasoned leader within the LCMS. He has planted churches with the homeless, traveled around the world on missional experiences, and enjoys spending his days inspiring and developing college students to disciple their friends as Campus Pastor at Concordia University Texas. He has been united in marriage to his wife Nicolette for 15 years. He enjoys joining in with his three children (Ben, Penni, and Francie) to make TikTok videos, jump on the trampoline, and beat another level of Mario Brothers Deluxe on the Switch. He began his ministry life as a Director of Christian Education in 2005 and became a pastor in Gilbert, AZ, at Christ Greenfield in 2017. He is on track to complete his Doctorate of Ministry in May 2025 in Adaptive Leadership with a focus on multi-ethnic ministry.
