

Shari is an enthusiastic educator with over 15 years of experience working with special education students in a variety of settings. She has served in many capacities within the churches she's attended. These include leading women's Bible study, participating in several music ministries, teaching ESL classes, and working with youth. She loves to crochet, read, and scrapbook.

Shari attended Concordia, Austin, where she graduated with a dual major in Communications and Environmental Science. While in Austin, she met her husband, Eric. After ten years of marriage, Eric was called into the ministry. He attended Concordia Seminary in St. Louis and currently serves at St. Paul in Wichita Falls.

Eric and Shari have two children. Emma, who is 25, teaches special education in St. Louis. Alex, who is 24, is studying music education.

Shari is humbled and excited to serve as a part of the Evangelist Training ministry and joyfully anticipates seeing God at work in Area A.
